Dear editors

I would like to sincerely apologize for uploading un-revised file of our manuscript in your web system. This is due to my failure to locate the reviewed manuscript which you attached in the acceptance letter in your web. I did sent inquiry email about this, however not getting any reply. I just found out recently about the reviewed manuscript, therefore have made required changes. Since we can no longer access to the revision option in the web, we are attaching our revised manuscript in this email.

Please accept our apologies for not responding in your time frame. We sincerely hope that our revised manuscript can still be processed accordingly, without having to go through a new submission process.

Kindly be informed that we have paid the publication fee and have sent the transfer sheet in the previous email.

Please kindly let us know whether the attached revision can be included in time.

Regards
Adelina Simamora
